My main interest lies in methodological aspects of research in Computational Linguistics, where I mainly look at two domains. Currently, my work mainly focuses on methodological aspects when NLP is used as part of research in the humanities and social sciences. In particular, my research focuses on what information is captured in word embeddings and how neural networks learn when used on NLP tasks. This research is embedded in a project on identifying which perspectives are expressed implicitly in text, which can be used to investigate framing or stereotyping. This research is the main topic of my VENI project Reading between the lines.

My PhD thesis proposed a new methodology for developing linguistic precision grammars. The main idea of the proposal, storing alternative analyses in a metagrammar so that they may be compared at different stages of the development process, can be applied in any theory. I particularly looked at grammars developed as part of the DELPH-IN consortium in which context open-source HPSG-based grammars are developed. The method is also closely related to the LinGO Grammar Matrix.

ACADEMIC WORK EXPERIENCE

2016 → Assistant Professor, Vrije Universiteit, Amsterdam.
Main Project: Veni-Project Reading between the Lines (PI)

2012-2016 Researcher, Vrije Universiteit, Amsterdam.
Main Projects: BiographyNet, NewsReader

2011-2012 Researcher, DFKI GmbH, Project office Berlin.
Projects: KomParse, META-NET

2010 Research Intern: Microsoft Powerset.
Project: Query analysis

2007-2010 Lecturer and Researcher. Saarland University.
Topics: Grammar Engineering, Syntactic Theory

2006-2007 Teaching Assistant. Saarland University (UdS).

2005-2007 Research Assistant. Saarland University (UdS).

EDUCATION

University Teaching Qualification (2016) Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam.

PhD Degree in Computational Linguistics. Magna Cum Laude (2014).
Thesis advisors: Prof. Dr. Hans Uszkoreit (Saarland University, DFKI) and Prof. Dr. Emily M. Bender (University of Washington).
Thesis title: Enhancing Empirical research for Linguistically Motivated Precision Grammars.

Master of Science: Language Science and Technology. With Distinction.
(2005-2007). Thesis advisor: PD. Dr. Valia Kordoni (Saarland University).
Thesis title: A Hybrid System for Compound Noun Disambiguation.

Maîtrise: Sciences du Langage. Mention: très bien (2001-2005) Université Michel De Montaigne, Bordeaux III. Thesis advisor: Prof. Dr. Claude Muller.
Thesis title: Les SD-adverbiaux en anglais américain

Diplôme d'études supérieures de la langue française (diploma in advanced French studies) (2000-2001) Maison de DEFLE. Université Michel de Montaigne, Bordeaux III.

VWO diploma (high school degree) (1994-2000) Stedelijk Gymnasium Nijmegen.

GRANTS, AWARDS &
PROJECT FUNDING

2018 Framing Situations in the Dutch language. NWO/Vrije Competitie Geesteswetenschappen 2017. (797,597 Euro). With Piek Vossen, Johan Bos and Malvina Nissim.

2017 Inside the Filter Bubble. NWO/Netherlands eScience Center (244,000 Euro & 250,000 in kind). With Wouter van Atteveldt, Laura Hollink, Damian Trilling, Judith Möller, Kasper Welbers and Natali Helberger (main author NLP work package).

2017 Discriminerende microportretten van moslims in politieke berichtgeving. Stichting Democratie en Media: initiatief tegen moslimdiscriminatie (19,242 Euro). With Nel Ruigrok, Sarah Gagenstein and Wouter van Atteveldt (main author technological component and method).

2017 The History of Human Capital (HHu'CAP). CLARIAH Pilot Research Project (60,000 Euro). With Richard Zijdemans, Auke Rijpma and Martijn Kleppe (main author technological component).

2017 Onderzoeksproject leeftijdsdiscriminatie in vacatureteksten. Project for creating software that detects age discrimination (20,322 Euro). Funded by 'College voor Rechten van de Mens' (The Netherlands Institute for Human Rights). With Camiel Beukeboom.

2017 A linguistic and behavioral assessment of a possible generic optimistic bias in individuals. Network Institute Academy Assistants (8,000 Euro). With Jaap Ouwerkerk.

2016 Onderzoeksproject leeftijdsdiscriminatie in vacatureteksten. Ministerie van Sociale Zaken. Werkgelegenheid (50,000). With Camiel Beukeboom.

- 2016 Dutch Extensible Semantic Infrastructure for Digital Explorative Reading (DESIDERIA). KNAW Road map, Grootchalige Onderzoeksfaciliteiten. and Information Architecture. Proposal co-author (main author NLP subproject).
- 2015 Reading between the lines. Identifying implicit perspectives. VENI scholarship (250,000 Euro). Personal Grant.
- 2015 Identifying implicit stereotypical view in natural language through automatic linguistic analyses. Network Institute Academy Assistants (8,000 Euro). Together with Camiel Beukeboom.
- 2014 Political Discourse in the News. Network Institute Academy Assistants (8,000 Euro). Together with Wouter van Atteveldt.
- 2014 Time will tell a different story. Network Institute Academy Assistants (8,000 Euro). Together with Serge ter Braake.
- 2014 Visualizing Uncertainties and Perspectives. Netherlands eScience Grant (125,000 Euro). Main author with Piek Vossen and Inger Leemans.
- 2013 Can we handle the news? Enlighten Your Research Prize (approximately 100,000 Euro). Main author with Piek Vossen.
- 2007 International Research Training Group (IRTG) and Program in Research and Education (PIRE): PhD Scholarship.

COURSES TAUGHT

- 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017 Text mining for digital humanities and Social Science. Lecturer and in 2015-2016 coordinator, course design.
This course (previously known as ‘Annotation by Humans and Machines’ and ‘Deep interpretation by Humans and Machines’) covers the basic methodological aspects of systematic text analysis through human annotation and automatic methods. Co-taught with Isa Maks, Tommaso Caselli, Anca Dumitrache, Lora Aroyo and Piek Vossen.
- 2016, 2017 Machine Learning for NLP. Lecturer, support course design. Course coordinator and only teacher in 2017.
This course introduces machine learning as applied in natural language processing. Both classic and currently popular approaches are covered as well as main methodological aspects. Co-taught with Tommaso Caselli (coordinator) in 2016.
- 2016, 2018 NLP Technologies. Course design, coordinator and lecturer.
This course (previously known as ‘NLP Toolkits’) introduces Natural Language Processing as a research field. The necessary basics of linguistics and computer science needed to understand and work on research in this field are covered. Co-taught with Tommaso Caselli and Roser Morante.
- 2013, 2014 Introduction to Python. Course design and lecturer.
A basic introduction to Python for students (and researchers) with a non-technical background. Co-taught with Marten Postma.
- 2013 Tutorial Research in NLP. Course design and lecturer.
This course walked students step by step through the process of carrying out an experiment leading to a research paper in NLP. Co-taught with Marten Postma and Marieke van Erp.

2008, 2009, 2010 Grammar Formalisms. Lecturer in 2010, exercise instructor in 2009, 2008.

BSc Course (in German) that introduces formal grammars and syntax to computational linguists. Co-taught with Prof. Dr. Hans Uszkoreit, PD. Dr. Valia Kordoni and Judith Köhne.

2008, 2009, 2010 Introduction to Computational Morphology. Lecturer.

A 4-hours lecture as part of an MSc Introduction Course.

2009-2010 Syntactic Theory. MSc Course. Course design and lecturer.

This course introduces the several syntactic theories used in computational linguistics: dependency grammars, LFG, TAG and HPSG. Co-taught with Dr. Yi Zhang.

2006-2007 Introduction to Computational Linguistics. Teaching assistant. BSc

Course (in German) that provides a first introduction to computational linguistics. Instructors: Prof. Dr. Manfred Pinkal and Prof. Dr. Sebastian Pado.

SUPERVISION

PostDoc Isa Maks. Topic: annotation and evaluation in digital humanities and social science

PhD thesis Minh Le. Daily Supervisor. Started September 2014. Topic: tackling error propagation in NLP.

Philippine Waisvisz (external PhD). Co-supervisor since December 2016. Topic: Process and Motivation Mining.

Pia Sommerauer. Co-supervisor. Started September 2017. Topic: Distributional Semantic Models

MA theses

Pia Sommerauer. Topic: investigating conceptual change using distributional semantics. Completed 2017.

Chantal van Son. Towards a Dutch FrameNet-Style Semantic Role Labeler. Completed 2015.

MSc thesis

Irina Borisova. Implementing Georgian Polypersonal Agreement through the LinGO Grammar Matrix. Completed 2010.

Honours Students

Identifying Stereotyping in Text

Johanna Kastzi (September 2017 - present)

Christopher Minnet (September 2017 - present)

Student Assistants

 Chantal van Son (January 2014 - June 2014)

INTERNATIONAL
 INVITATIONS AND EXCHANGE

- 2007-present Member of the DELPH-IN initiative (international collaboration for natural language processing with HPSG).
- 4 August 2017 Teacher (introduction to NLP) at the Zurich Summer School for Women in Political Methodologies. Zürich, Switzerland.
- 8 June 2017 Panel member: Unhinging the National Framework: Diaries and the Digital. International AutoBiography Association (IABA) Conference. London, United Kingdom.
- 27-28 April 2017 Invited participation. International Meeting of Network: Navigating Knowledge Landscapes. Halden, Norway.
- 9-10 March 2017 Invited Speaker at 'From Qualitative to Quantative Research' Conference. Ajou University, Suwon, Korea.
- 16 November 2016 Keynote speaker at SWE-CLARIN Workshop. Umeå, Sweden.
- 17-19 October 2016 Invited Research visit. Biographical data consultancy. Austrian Academy of Sciences, Vienna, Austria.
- 26 September 2016 Guest speaker at CRETA-Werkstatt, University of Stuttgart, Germany.
- 23 September 2016 Keynote speaker at the LAP-launch, Oslo, Norway.
- 22 January 2016 Invited presentation and panel member (representing BiographyNet). Oxford University, United Kingdom.
- 26 November 2015 Invited presentation and panel member (representing NewsReader). Leuven University, Belgium.
- 12 November 2010 Invited talk. Using Grammar Customization for Analysis Comparison. University of Washington, Seattle, United States.
- 27 August 2010 Presentation at the Berkeley Syntax Circle. UC Berkeley, United States.
- Aug-Nov 2010 Research Internship. Microsoft Powerset. San Francisco, United States.
- Jan-March 2009 Exchange as part of the IRTG/PIRE program. Brown University, Providence, United States.
- Sep-Nov 2008 Exchange as part of the IRTG/PIRE program. University of Washington. Seattle, United States.

22 January 2007 Invited presentation: Aspects of Grammar: from theory to computation in Germanic language investigation. Rijksuniversiteit Groningen, the Netherlands (from Germany).

Aug 2004-June 2005 EAP: Undergraduate Exchange Program. University of California, Berkeley, United States.

Feb-July 2005 Free-mover exchange semester Saarland University. Saarbrücken, Germany.

ORGANIZATION

2017 Workshop Muslim Stereotyping. 20 October 2017. Public workshop to discuss outcome of research on stereotyping of Muslims in the Media. Co-organizer. Leiden, the Netherlands.

Language, Knowledge and People in Perspectives. April 2017. International Workshop at the Lorentz center. Scientific Co-organizer. Leiden, The Netherlands.

BD2017: Conference on Biographical Data in a Digital World. Member of scientific organization team. Linz, Austria.

Navigating Knowledge Landscape Symposium. Co-organizer. Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

2016 Biographical Data Workshop: modeling, sharing and analyzing people's lives. Workshop at the Annual Digital Humanities Conference. 11 July 2016. Initiator and Main organizer. Krakow, Poland.

2015 CLIN26: Computational Linguistics in the Netherlands. 18 December 2015. Main organizer with Roser Morante. Conference with 150 participants. Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

BD2015: Conference on Biographical Data in a Digital World. Initiator and Main organizer with Serge ter Braake. Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

2014 Workshop on using NLP for historical research. Main organizer with Serge ter Braake. Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

Workshop on modeling perspectives (NewsReader internal Workshop). Main organizer and chair. Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

2010 Local organizer of DELPH-IN Summit 2010 Paris.

2006 TaCoS 2006 (student conference in computational linguistics). Co-organizer.
